4 Terms, Aims and Objectives

- 4.1 The club/society shall hold the following as its aims and objectives.
- 4.2 The club/society shall strive to fulfil these aims and objectives in the course of the academic year as its commitment to its membership.
- 4.3 The core activities of the club/society shall be:
 - 4.3.1 Speaking Events: hosting speakers who have an interest in STS and would like to share their insights and discuss their interest to the society. This would be close to an educational event but less formal to allow the scope of the issue to be more thoroughly fleshed out through the combination of the differing expertises present in the relevant departments. The aim is to show how STS issues are relevant in current debates.
 - 4.3.2 Social Events: Aimed at bringing together the STS department at UCL and creating a greater sense of community. Moreover, these events will help introduce non STS students to the society and department.
 - 4.3.3 Study Sessions: hosting group study sessions where all members, regardless of the year of study, can join and discuss what they find interesting. During term 3, this activity could also be used as group revision session. The aim is to bring students together to exchange their academic ideas, build relationships, and thrive together.
- 4.4 In addition, the club/society shall also strive to organise other activities for its members where possible:
 - 4.5 Student Projects: STS students have had many great ideas to use their degree outside of the academic context. The aim is to allow this kind of initiative to flourish. An opportunity for students to submit their ideas shall be organised every year.
- 4.6 This constitution shall be binding on the club/society officers, and shall only be altered by consent of two-thirds majority of the full members present at a club/society general meeting. The Activities Zone shall approve any such alterations.
- 4.7 This constitution has been approved and accepted as the Constitution for the Students' Union UCL STS Lunar Society. By signing this document the president and treasurer have declared that they have read and abide by the Students' Union UCL Club and Society Regulations.
